VOL. IV. LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 15, 1883. 62.

Day Dispatches.

(By the Western Associated Press.)

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

A Stage Robbery in the Mountains.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The steamer Mariposa arrived this morning from Honolulu, having on board King Kalakaua's band, members of which were said to be infected with leprosy. An examination proved the statement to be incorrect, and the band was permitted to land without any trouble. Among the passengers, 75 in number, were several who came to participate in the Templar festivities.

A club of Knights Templar, comprising members from various Commanderies of Pennsylvania, arrived on the overland train at 1 o'clock this morning. Owing to the lateness of the hour no formal reception was held, the party being escorted by a torchlight procession to their quarters at the Russ House.

Felipe Arellano, from the City of Mexico, Speaker of the House of Representatives, says that building of railroads has done more in the last ten years to develop and make known the great resources of Mexico than all previously done within the present century.

The Chinese Six Companies have issued orders that Chinatown be cleaned and ornamented for the Triennial Conclave.

Suicide—The Harkins Bribery Case.

Hermann Lebin, a commercial traveler, committed suicide last night. He was about 40 years of age and had no relations here, as far as known, and left no statement as to what induced him to seek death.

The Harkins opium smuggling bribery case will not again be put on for trial before Septembeer, Judge Hoffman declining to set any case for trial during the Conclave period. It is believed the new trial will be a hard fight on both sides, the Government having secured strong evidence tending to convict several witnesses of perjury.

From California to Oregon.

PORTLAND, August 14.—Contractors for the cutting of Cow Creek tunnel, 2,800 feet long, on the Oregon and California extension, have reached here. Daylight tunnel will be finished by the end of the week, when tracklaying through it will begin. The road will be opened for traffic to Grant's Pass about October 10th. This leaves thirty-two miles for the Oregon company to build next year to complete its share of the California line. If the Central Pacific keeps up its end of the road it will be finished in a year.

Sierra Valley Stage Robbed.

TRUCKEE, Aug. 14.—Two masked men stopped the Sierra Valley stage last evening sixteen miles from this lace. Wells, Fargo & Co.'s box, containing $976, was taken and all the passengers relieved of their loose change. The highwaymen were good enough not to take the passengers' jewelry. Wells, Fargo & Co. ordered their detectives to make an active search for the robbers.

London Stock Exchange.

LONDON, Aug. 14th, 1 p. m.—There was almost a panic at the Stock Exchange here this morning in American railroad securities, which are greatly depressed and are difficult to sell. American Government bonds are not affected by the unfavorable feeling in railway securities. Mexican railway stocks are strong.

STRUGGLING STOCKS.

Excitement in Wall Street on Saturday and Sunday.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The excitement which prevailed on Wall street on Saturday reached fever heat to-day. The intervening Sunday gave people time to consider the situation carefully and see how grave it really is. The great fall in stocks is, according to the opinions of the most conservative men here, not really at an end. Stocks have been bolstered up to an absurd degree, and until the present time only the small fry have been much hurt. The weakest spots, perhaps, in the whole market, after the Gould stocks are eliminated, are the Northern Pacific and Oregon Transportation, though every possible struggle has been made to keep them up. Henry Clews was asked as to the special meaning of the drop in the Villard stocks, there being various rumors of trouble with some of the holders. He said, "I think the great trouble with the Northern Pacific and the Oregon Transportation is that that part of the country has been growing too fast. It means that they have 8000 miles of road to a very scanty population as against 6000 miles of road in New York State with a population of 5,000,000.

Gold and Stock Wires Cut.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—All of the gold and stock wires were cut this morning.

The Atlantic and Pacific Opened.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 12.—The formal opening of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad to traffic occurred on Friday, when the General Superintendent, accompanied by other officials, passed over the road and met with a warm reception at the Needles from the inhabitants and the representatives of the Central Pacific. This opens up another route to the Pacific Coast via Albuquerque, Wingate, New Mexico and Winslow, Arizona.

San Francisco Grain Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Wheat. firm; seller, $1.66⅛@$1.68. Barley, active: seller, $1.02½@$1.03⅛; seller season, $1.02¼@$1.02⅝; buyer $1.08@$1.12½; buyer season $1.12½.

Examining Homes for Orphans.

W. W. Moreland, Governor Stoneman's private secretary and Secretary of the State Board of Examiners, and J. J. Ayers, State Printer, have been in this city this week for the purpose of examining into the condition and accounts of the two Homes for Orphans here. The two gentlemen are making a tour of the State, and the Homes here make seventeen which have been examined by them. They have two more to examine, one at Grass Valley and one at Sacramento. The inspection of the Homes here has been completed. The Catholic Home is in good condition throughout. In this institution there are twenty-five orphans, sixty-one half-orphans, and three abandoned children, and the State aid amounts to $7,100 per annum. In the Protestant Orphan's Home there are five orphans, twenty-five half-orphans, and one abandoned child, and the State aid amounts to $2,750 per annum. The institution is in good condition, with one exception. The sewerage is very bad, and there is now one case of pneumonia. The examiners are of the opinion that more sickness will be the result unless good sewerage is provided, and will so state in their report.

Fruit Scarcity.

As the season progresses the scarcity of the deciduous fruits becomes more and more apparent. No one needs to waste even poor fruit this year, for there is a market for all, and more than has been raised of any description. The peddlers ask their own prices this year, and they are willingly paid by parties who are determined to have fruit at a price which during any other year would have seemed exorbitant.

NOBODY CAN DENY. Consumers can depend upon the NEW ENGLAND BAKING POWDER as being exactly as represented. It is Cream of Tartar and Bi-carbonate of Soda of perfect purity, scientifically combined; NOTHING ELSE. The price of the NEW ENGLAND BAKING POWDER justifies the use of the very best materials. Consumers pay a fair price for the best and get it. It is self-evident that Baking Powders represented to be composed of the same materials as the NEW ENGLAND, and which are sold to dealers at less than the pure materials themselves are worth, cannot be pure. The large demand for NEW ENGLAND BAKING POWDER, and consequent falling off in sales of adulterated and inferior powders, has developed a spitefulness on the part of some manufacturers and dealers. Finding that the quality of the NEW ENGLAND cannot be successfully attacked, new brands and close imitations, represented to be as good, are put on the market. With these they endeavor to tempt dealers with low prices, and thus impose on consumers. See that the name NEWTON BROS. & Co. is on every can. jy1-2taw-3m

THE CONCLAVE.

Everything Working Harmoniously, and Success Predicted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. — The Knights Templar are now arriving en masse. The streets this evening give evidence of a large influx of strangers within the last twenty-four hours. Delegations are arriving on each train. They are met by special committees who conduct them to their sojourning places. The Triennial Committee report this evening that everything is working harmoniously and predict that the Conclave will be a great success.

Boston Commandery at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Grand Commander Dean and the Boston Commandery and escort arrived here this afternoon from Los Angeles. The party was met at Merced by the Grand Commandery of California and a delegation from the Conclave Reception Committee. The cars of the receiving Knights were attached to the excursion train, and the journey was completed at Oakland, where they were welcomed by the Oakland Commandery. They were received here by California and Golden Gate Commanderies. They are quartered at the Palace Hotel.

THE PHILADELPHIANS AND THE SAN FRANCISCO CLUB.

The San Francisco Club of Knights Templar, from Philadelphia, have made a change of quarters from the Russ house to the Palace Hotel. The change is made because of inadequate accommodations.

They brought with them three fine display banners to hang from the windows of their apartments. The San Francisco Club embraces delegates from six out of seven Philadelphia Commanderies, and therefore represents the Knights Templar of Philadelphia very fully. The Philadelphians pride themselves on being the first large party of Knights to arrive in San Francisco, and say that as they will remain twelve days, they will make the longest stay. Each Sir Knight wears a medal, on which are the names of the Philadelphia Commanderies, the image of a pilgrim, the Cross and Crown and the inscription, "Pilgrimage of San Francisco Club to Triennial Conclave, 1883."

SAN FRANCISCO.

They are pronounced excellent musicians and it is said they will carry off the musical honors of the Conclave. Before leaving Honolulu the citizens presented them with $600 as pocket money.

A Hawaiian Temblor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The Honolulu News states that two shocks of earthquake were felt. The weather had been unusually hot. Major Gulick has been appointed Minister of the Interior.

Condition of the Strikers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The Brotherhood of striking operators continue to hold meetings. They express themselves still confident, although disappointed at the Grand Opera benefit not being as large a sum as was supposed, the amount realized being less than two thousand dollars. It is reported this evening that several striking operators at Eastern points have signified their intention of coming to California, and have offered their services to the company. The opinions expressed among telegraphers in this city are to the effect that the position of the strikers is becoming each day weaker.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Wall Street, 3 p. m.—There were signs of returning confidence in stocks at one time this afternoon, but shortly after 2 p. m. a savage attack was made on Western Union stock, breaking four points to 72¾. The decline was due to "stop orders." The Missouri Pacific also broke to 93, and other active shares declined in sympathy. Towards the close Western Union rallied to 74⅞ and a firmer tone characterized the whole market in final sales. However, Western Union ran off to 74, general list.

A Battle-Flag Returned.

The Marquis of Lorne will preside at the festival of the Scottish corporation at Aberdeen, Scotland, on St. Andrew's day next.

Ballou's Suspension.

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—A prominent broker of this city said Ballou's suspension was occasioned by the refusal of the banks to further certify the firm's checks, but that his embarrassment was possibly only a temporary one. The firm has been a large holder of San Pedro, Toledo, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Mutual Union stock, and their suspension was due in a large degree to the decline in these shares.

Railroad Accident.

VALLEJO, Cal., Aug. 14.—Two young men, James Scantling and Wm. Hemming, in a spring wagon drawn by two horses, attempted to cross the railroad track in front of the down train from Napa. The locomotive struck the vehicle and the men and horses were horribly mangled. They were dead almost before the train could be stopped. Oscar Wilde's Return.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Star's head lines on Oscar Wilde's return seem to tell the whole story. "Oscar Wilde back again." "Hoping to reap another harvest of golden American coin." "Rejected in London, played out in Paris, and an utter failure all over, he returns with short hair and proper attire."

The Deuteronomy Manuscript.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Interest in the Deuteronomy manuscript grows rapidly, but the worldly-minded are intensely sceptical as to their genuineness. Its deciphering advances steadily and grows more interesting, while it is watched with the closest attention by scholars in every part of Europe. It is noteworthy that the geographical inconsistencies in the accepted version do not exist in the manuscript. If the slips be forgeries, only a scholar of the greatest eminence can have produced them.

TEMPLARS' HEADQUARTERS.

More Decorations—Knights from Galesburg, Etc.

The headquarters of the Knights Templar, in the Nadeau Hotel building, are daily being made more beautiful, and Secretary Ward, of the Reception Committee, is kept busy in the performance of various duties connected with the proper entertainment of our distinguished visitors. The end wall of the room, near the entrance, and over the Secretary's desk, has been adorned by a pretty red flower cross and the motto, "In Hoc Signo Vinces." This cross and motto were the work of Mrs. Dan Stevens, and they, in connection with the decorations made by Mrs. Dr. Cochran, Mrs. Earl Miller and other ladies, complete the beauty of as pretty a room as can be found in a days' travel. The visiting Sir Knights have all been delighted with the elegance and good taste observed in the arrangement and furnishing of this room, and many have been the compliments bestowed upon Cœur de Lion Commandery and their lady assistants in the good work. Donations are constantly being received from fruit growers of the best products of their lands. Messrs. Joe Bayer & Co., Watkins & Wood, M. P. Grove and Henry Stoll have this week made liberal donations of good things for the refreshment table. Two carloads of Knights are expected to arrive this afternoon from Galesburg, Illinois, and preparations are being made to give them a cheerful welcome. Secretary Ward states that much injustice is being done to Los Angeles by evil disposed persons who desire to attract the bulk of the travel to the northern routes. They represent that the Southern route is dry, hot and disagreeable in the extreme, and that the scenery along the line is devoid of beauty. Other misrepresentations are made, some going to the extent that the Knights are not well received here. Of course, these misrepresentations will be refuted by the Boston Commandery, and others which have passed through this city, but they are, nevertheless, calculated to do much unmerited injury to this place. By the time the Conclave is over, however, the courteous treatment received here will be made known to the Knights coming by way of the Northern route, and Los Angeles may confidently prepare to entertain several thousand who will return home by the Southern route. They will carry with them to their Eastern cities the fame of Los Angeles for health, beauty, and the affability and culture of her citizens.

Democratic papers say the next Congress will inquire into the charges made that the Democrats of Indiana were bought up by the Republicans at the last Presidential election. If the charges should be proven true, it would only advertise the shame of the men who sold their votes.

The time for driving the golden spike has been fixed for September 8, and the place moved from twenty to fifty miles this side of Helena. This latest announcement has more the appearance of authority than the previous ones had, but there will be continual rumors and announcements and constant bustle of preparation until the golden spike shall have been driven, pulled out and laid away with the golden slippers.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1883.

THE LAST SPIKE.

A great event is soon to be celebrated in the Northwest. Another transcontinental railroad is to be opened. The Northern Pacific is nearing completion, and the time for driving the last spike—the golden spike—has been fixed for the 8th of September. The place for it not yet precisely fixed, but will be a point a short distance to the westward of Helena, Montana. Extensive preparations are making for a grand celebration of the important event. President Villard and his associates are determined to show the world that "there's nothing mean" about them. They are organizing an excursion westward over their road to the spike-driving point, which is to be composed of notables of this country and of the Old World. It is designed to make the celebration of this event second, if possible, in importance to no similar one in the history of the industrial enterprises of the world—not even second to the opening of the Suez Canal, when princes and potentates, European and Asiatic, including Queen Victoria, were present to give countenance and dignity to the occasion.

The opening of the Northern Pacific Railroad will be a great thing for the country through which it will pass—for the entire country, indeed. It will traverse a region which is now largely a wilderness, but which is rich in natural resources and destined to speedily become populous, opulent and great. The road penetrates an almost illimitable natural wheat-field, the production of which, already great, is destined, when settlement comes, to exceed the most extravagant calculations yet made of its capacity.

But it is not alone the development of the Northwest which this transcontinental railroad will be a chief agent in effecting; it will have a marked effect upon the through business between the Atlantic and Pacific. In the competition which it will create, or ought to create, lies a large measure of the good which the country hopes may flow from its completion and operation.

The effect of the opening of this road, as viewed from the standpoint of St. Paul, is thus set forth by the Pioneer Press of that city:

It is true that this event will have a more than local significance, and that the whole State may feel called upon to participate, since no other political division save those of the Northern Pacific Coast sustains the same relation to the great work. To give to this fact its due weight and significance is to unite the people of Minnesota, and especially all the cities most nearly concerned, in an attempt to do honor to the occasion, for this event is one whose ultimate consequences the imagination is scarcely competent to measure. It is a matter of common knowledge that even those who have personally visited the regions of the Northwest which are opened to the outer world by this line are almost bewildered by their extent and the possibilities which they suggest. No just judgment can be formed of what they will have become a quarter of a century hence, any more than the Minnesotian of thirty years ago could have pictured to himself the Minnesota of to-day. And in the same way, it is hardly possible to express in the terms of ordinary language what changes will be wrought by the completion of the Northern Pacific. Independent of the great country which it traverses, the very fact of the establishment of a new line of communication between ocean and ocean is enough to build up new groups of industries and give a wonderful impetus to existing centers of population. No State has such a lively interest in this as that which holds within its borders the cities where the commerce of East and West will meet for distribution; where not only the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts will lay their treasures down together, but where the products of the opposite shores of the old world will lie side by side in their journey round the world. The new transcontinental line will mean as much to Minnesota as the first one finished did to California.

Next to St. Paul, if not before it, Portland will be the great gainer by this through northern line; and San Francisco, too, will share largely in the common benefits. The entire Pacific Slope cannot fail to receive a fresh impetus from the opening of the road.

During the year 1881 out of $26,608,000 worth of horned cattle imported into the United States from all countries, $11,664,000 worth came from the United States, and out of $10,512,000 worth of fresh beef imports from all countries, $9,613,000 worth was from the United States. Our own returns show that in 1882 we exported to Great Britain $6,959,000 worth of horned cattle and $6,328,000 worth of fresh beef. The present year will show a considerable increase over these amounts.

JOHN WANAMAKER, the great Philadelphia merchant, spent $200,000 in advertising last year. His net profits for the same period were $1,000,000. Facts are arguments.

THE CLAN HEARST AND THE CLAN IRISH.

The fierce quarrel between the San Francisco Examiner and the Oakland Times still continues. The Examiner is implacably anti-monopoly, while the Times is complaisantly pro-railroad, hence the ruction. The latest phase of the fight shows Lieut.-Gov. Daggett on the scene, co-operating with the Examiner in a tolerably successful effort to prove that Irish, of the Times, is a brass-mounted liar and a confirmed horse-thief, as it were. It's a very pretty fight as it stands. There is something more than monopoly and anti-monopoly in this fight, however. George Hearst, owner of the Examiner, wants to be United States Senator, and Irish, they say, imported himself all the way from Iowa for the purpose of contending for the same prize. Irish's paper is sure that the Examiner is an unfit representative of the Democratic party of California, and Hearst's paper insists that Irish's paper is owned, body, soul and overalls, by the railroad company. The fight will go on, but neither of the combatants will carry off the plunder. While they are closed in the death-grapple, some cunning camp-follower in the party, more adroit and less indiscreet, will slip in and loot the camp.

THE political millenium must be close at hand. Henri Watterson has "given it out cold" in the Courier-Journal that he considers President Arthur "a gentleman and an honest man." Henri is impulsive and indiscreet. It was he who proposed to march on Washington City in March, 1877, with one hundred thousand Kentucky Democrats and seat Tilden in the Presidential chair. Grant made it known that he was ready for the Kentuckians, and they didn't march.

THE candidates for Governor of Iowa, Republican and Democratic, are going to have an oratorical fight, and as they enter the arena, the State Register remarks: "Sherman holds aloft the banner on which is inscribed all the Republican victories of twenty-three years; Kinne carries under his arm the banner on which is inscribed the Democratic defeats of a like period."

IN San Bernardino, Ventura and Santa Clara counties, and in perhaps other counties of the State, where resistance has been made by liquor men to the enforcement of the license tax, the courts have decided in favor of the constitutionality of the law, the County Government bill, under which the tax is imposed. The saloon men are sustaining setbacks on every hand in their resistance to law.

"Do Chinamen eat rats?" is a problem which is being discussed in New York since the editor of the Chinese-American has offered $500 to anybody who will prove that his countrymen feed on this small game. We give it up. All we know about it is that this same Chinese editor offered to eat Denis Kearney, and Denis took to his hole.

PROCTOR KNOTT, the Governor-elect of Kentucky, is a man of about fifty-three years; is a native Kentuckian, though he lived for fifteen years in Missouri and was Attorney-General of that State. He has had six terms in Congress from the Fourth Kentucky District, and first made himself famous by his humorous Duluth speech.

THE Democracy has been a good deal torn up in its mind on the subject of the tariff, but gradually it begins to drift towards free whisky and free tobacco. The average Democrat is "agin" taxing what he considers the necessaries of life.

THE total number of business failures in the United States during the first half of the current year was 4637, while in the United Kingdom for the same time there were 5698. In Great Britain the failures have increased during the past few years among wholesale houses, while American failures are largely confined to small dealers.

EL DORADO COUNTY has had a happy thought. She is preparing to give the visiting Knights who are now overrunning San Francisco a daily fruit banquet, fresh, ripe, delicious, abundant, "without money and without price."

PROCTOR KNOTT says he does not know whether Hoadly can be elected or not, but is sure "Durbin Ward could have been elected like a flash." And Pultizer, another Democrat, says Hoadly is "gone—all gone"—unless he can explain away the ugly charges of having bought his nomination.

THE following editorial item, from the Augusta, Ga., Chronicle and Constitution, a strong Democratic paper, would read strangely as a Democratic opinion in California:

There is no doubt that the temperance cause is prospering in Georgia. High license and local option are the proper remedies.

THERE is much wisdom in the remark of the Traveler of Little Rock, that if the press of the South would give more attention to educational matters and less to politics the country would be more benefited and the difference would be soon made apparent.

The Linchpin of Creation.

From the Toledo Telegram.]

A writer in the Century for September presents an array of facts and arguments to show that New York will be the "final world metropolis;" and he predicts that before another century passes, the population in New York will surpass that of London, and will be the unrivaled center of finance and commerce. We venture to say that this New York person has never visited Toledo, or he would have been able to see that before half a century Toledo is destined to be not only the center of trade and commerce, the heart, brain and liver of the civilized world, but the linchpin of creation that holds the revolving hub of the universe in place.

Toledo is on the raging Maumee.

The Gallipolis (Ohio) Bulletin is awake to the crisis, and breaks forth in this thrilling strain: "In these days when the fragrant elder blossoms permeate the air, and the corntop is ripe and the tassel in the bloom, and the blackberries fill the fence-corners of the pasture fields, and the sun shines down in lurid splendor, and the Republican politicians are lying back in their headquarters drinking mint juleps and concocting campaign lies to run their temperance (?) campaign on, let every Democrat beat his breast and solemnly resolve that, come what will, survive or perish, he will not be seduced by any art or device to swerve one hair's breadth from the good old Democratic ticket."

A St. Louis paper, in its account of an interview with Mrs. Langtry, rather meanly says: "Under a blue satin sofa could be seen a pair of rather generously proportioned bronze slippers." The New South.

New York Herald.]

Any one who doubts that the South is on the high road to prosperity, and getting its pay as it goes along, should consider the condition of the State of Alabama. Before the war Alabama raised a great deal of cotton and not much of anything else; now she produces much corn, beats some Northern States in the production of oats, finds profits in pork and wool, and has a pleasing assortment of mines and mills. In spite of all this, however, she raises about 50 per cent. more cotton than she did ten years ago.

And less hell.

The people of the State of California send greeting to R. N. White, John Doe, Richard Roe and James Johnson, defendants.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named Plaintiff in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days, (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this County; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days.

Reference is had to Complaint for particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will cause your default to be entered and will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in said complaint.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, this 13th day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three.

OUR FRUITS IN BOSTON.

California Raisins — Good Words From a High Source.

Boston Commercial Bulletin, Aug. 5.]

CALIFORNIA RAISINS.

The shipment of California raisins to Boston market promises in a short while to exceed in importance the shipment of green fruit. The receipts of California raisins in this market last season were very small, but this was due to the fact that the price of foreign raisins was very low while the California crop was light, and a very good market was found in the Pacific States at high prices. This year, however, a large amount of vineyards will yield fruit for the first time and the growers have made very extensive preparations for drying and packing a very large crop, and consequently large shipments to this market are expected. The raisins will begin to come in about the last of October and the season will last for five or six months.

These California raisins are made from the Malaga grape and are large and of excellent quality, and are acknowledged to be superior to the foreign. They are also fresher, as they never have the leathery taste given to the foreign raisins by the sea voyage. Vast quantities of land are being annually, especially in Southern California, devoted to the culture of grapes for raisins, and the growers are constantly increasing and improving their facilities for drying and packing. They are also introducing a number of Spanish laborers and will thus derive all possible advantages from skilled labor. The grapes can be grown so cheaply in California and the raisin production is increasing so rapidly that in a few years, possibly in 1885, it is confidently expected that the California raisins can be laid down in this market at $1.25@1.50 for a 24lb box, at which price the foreign raisins cannot compete with them.

At present the freight on the California raisins is 1½ cents per pound, which amounts to 25 cents on 20 pounds, and it is probable that as the shipments East increase, the freights will be lowered a little. The foreign raisins pay a duty of 2 cents per pound and ½ cent per pound freight, and this on a 20 pound box would amount to 50 cents, and this 50 cents for freight and duty must be subtracted from whatever the Spanish raisins sell at against but 25 cents to be subtracted from what 20 pounds of California raisins sell at. It is claimed by the Californians that they can produce raisins fully as cheap as the Spaniards, and that in a few years they will control the American market. In addition to their superior quality, buyers will be attracted to California raisins for another reason. They are honestly packed, the bottom layer being fully equal to the top and and the boxes have always full weight.

CALIFORNIA GREEN FRUITS.

For some years past a number of shipments of these fruits have been made to this market and the amount is increasing each year. Last season the business was large but as much fruit arrived in poor shape the trade was not a complete success. This year, however, the fruit is coming forward in excellent condition and the receipts so far show a considerable increase over last season. The season for California green fruit, under which term is included pears, plums, peaches, apricots and grapes, extends from July to the latter part of September, and one of the largest receivers estimates that an average of 400 crates or boxes of all kinds per week were received here last year.

The first receipts this season were about the first of July, and it is estimated that about 1700 or 1800 boxes of pears, about 1500 boxes of plums, about 300 boxes of peaches and perhaps 150 boxes of apricots have so far been received. Grapes are just beginning to come in, the first lot having been received last Tuesday. The fruit this year has been of excellent quality, though some of the peaches showed the effects of the long journey. The peaches sold from $4 to $4.50 per box, each of which contained from 40 to 60 peaches. There were about 200 plums to each box, which sold at from $3 to $3.50 and up to $4 for extra sizes. Each pear box contains 140 to 150 of large pears or from 150 to 175 of the ordinary sized ones and have sold at from $4.50 to $6 each. The pears are all Bartletts. Each case or box of grapes contains 40 pounds and sells at $7@8 and at about $4 per half case. The grapes are generally of the Muscat variety.

The increase in the shipments to Boston this year would have been much larger if the crop in California was above the average. This green fruit is shipped from Sacramento to Chicago in bulk, and there broken up and part of it sent East. The receipts at Boston will be very largely increased next year if the crop is a good one, as the fruit arrives before either native or Southern fruit of the same kind is in the market, and the demand for it is increasing. There are now only three or four receivers of it here, but it is probable that the number will be increased next year.

Railroad Items.

Mojave County Miner.]

We learn from parties just in from the Needles that work has been suspended on the bridge for the present. Fifteen of the men have been retained, however, to keep the ends that are still standing clear from drift wood.

It is rumored that the railroad company intends to commence the building of a permanent structure about the 25th inst. It will take some three months to complete it.

All passengers and freight are at present transported across the Colorado river at the Needles by ferryboat. This will probably continue until the permanent bridge is finished.

During the high water, crossing the Colorado has been attended with considerable danger, but as the water recedes the danger is reduced to a small item, and the passage can be accomplished in much less time.

Passengers now have to lay over at the crossing of the Colorado river some twenty-two hours. This could be easily remedied by the trains making closer connections.

Some complaint has been made regarding freight charges on the A. P. Railroad. The time is coming when a lively competition will be inaugurated by the two roads—one to get the business of Northern Arizona for the East, and the other to retain it for California.

Why the Governor is Not for Action.

From the Ventura Free Press.]

It would be richness indeed to see the Governor call the Legislature together for the purpose of removing the Railroad Commission for inaction, when he himself sat on that Board seven years and never did a thing, except to make himself so "solid" with the railroad people that they made him Governor. Oh! we forgot; he also officially drew his salary.

Five Thousand Dollars a Pound.

In his last letter to the Atlanta Constitution, "Bill Arp" says: As a rule the girls show too much anxiety to marry. They are too sweet on the boys. They ought to stand off and look reserved and precious and put on Jerusalem airs, and say, "Young man, you don't know whom you are fooling with. I'm a treasure, I am. I weigh 115 pounds and am worth $1,000 a pound." Well, they are. A good, nice, healthy girl, who can make her own dress and get up a good supper for company and is not ashamed to wait on the table while they are eating, is just worth about $1000 a pound. But that is nothing compared with what they will be worth. Why, Mrs. Arp has cut out and made up at least 2,000 garments of one sort or another. She has sewed 500,000 stitches, and patched and darned and washed faces and feet and combed hair innumerable. She has tied up 500 sore toes and cut fingers and burns and bruises, and kissed away a thousand tears. She has watched 'em by night and by day, and keeps on watching; and right now, while I am writing on my piazza, she is looking away up the road, and says: "I'm afraid something will happen to those boys; they are too little to go out by themselves." There are two little nephews here just out of school, and they and Carl have all got a horse apiece, and have gone off on a "scursion," and I call them the infantry cavalry, and tell Mrs. Arp it is all right, but she sits here sewing with her specs on, and ever and anon looks up the road and says, "Those children have overstaid their time. I'm afraid something has happened." If they don't come back soon, I know that I will have to start after them, for that is always the way. Mrs. Arp is worth at least $5000 a pound, and she weighs right smart and keeps a-getting heavier. I am rich, I am. I feel wealthier whenever I look at her.

A RARE FIND.

An Antique Manuscript of the Book of Deuteronomy Found.

A Mr. Shapira, of Jerusalem, a bookseller and dealer in antiquities, has just deposited in the British museum fifteen slips of black sheep-skin leather on which are written, in characters similar to those on the celebrated Moabite stone, portions of the book of Deuteronomy differing materially from the received version. The date of the slips is the ninth century before Christ, or sixteen centuries older than any authentic manuscript of any part of the Old Testament. Mr. Shapira bought them from an old Arab, and he asks for them $5,000,000 from the British museum. If genuine, the interest and importance of the discovery cannot be over-rated, and so far as the variations in the sacred text are concerned, there is promise of one of the greatest controversies that scholars have ever entered upon. The decalogue furnishes a good example for comparison with the received version. I quote from the Shapira record:

I am God, thy God, which liberated thee from the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage. Ye shall have no other gods.

Ye shall not make to yourselves any graven image, nor any likeness that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters under the earth. Ye shall not bow down to them nor serve them. I am God. Your God sanctified.

In six days I have made the heaven and the earth and all that there is therein, and rested on the seventh day. Therefore rest thou also; thou and thy cattle, and all that thou hast. I am God; thy God.

Honor thy father and thy mother. I am God; thy God.

Thou shalt not kill the person of thy brother. I am God; thy God.

Thou shalt not commit adultery with the wife of thy neighbor. I am God; thy God.

Thou shalt not swear by My name falsely, for I visit the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generations of those who take my name in vain. I am God; thy God.

Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy brother. I am God; thy God.

Thou shalt not covet his wife, or his man servant, or his maid servant, or anything that is his. I am God; thy God.

Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thy heart. I am God; thy God.

These ten words God spake.

Dr. Ginsburg, the eminent Semitic scholar to whom Mr. Gladstone has just given fifty pounds sterling toward the production of his work on the Masorah, has accepted the above and is busy completing a translation and determining on behalf of the museum the genuineness of the fragments.

A NATIONAL CRISIS.

A Dramatic Scene Attendant on the Placing of the Loan of 1861.

John D. Sherwood, in Englewood (N. J.) Standard.]

Secretary Chase, with the dignity which belonged to his noble presence, gave the conference a very lucid, frank and masterly exposition of the crisis in its national aspects, and the pressing need of the Government for money, explaining the act of Congress authorizing the loan. The wise old heads listened, bowed in thought and grave apprehension. Naturally timid as are men of experience intrusted with weighty responsibilities, and naturally conservative even to an excess of caution under new and untried circumstances, they shrank, as was not unnatural, from the assumption of powers which, from the stand-point of average human foresight, might involve their institutions in bankruptcy. At least the situation was novel—the present clouded with doubt and the future unilluminated by any light from the past. The weighty words of the secretary brooded over their spirits, and they sat in a silence at first awkward and then appalling, until a heavy gloom seemed to settle down and paralyze the entire assembly. At that moment sprang up the youthful-looking and animated figure of Mr. Coe, his cheering and ringing tones at once arresting attention and lifting the bowed heads of his fellow bankers. "I move," said he, "that we take his loan. It is not merely the dictate of patriotism, high as is this impulse. It is not merely that of wisdom, which is sometimes greater than prudence and caution. It is simply a commanding necessity—the instinct of self-preservation—which exacts it. In the question of the existence of our government is involved our own. Without a government banks cannot exist, property is without value. Existence itself is undesirable. Let the hordes of the Confederacy enter Washington and establish a slave confederation, and New York, Philadelphia and Boston become again mere trading ports—insignificant villages. Let this free government go down, and (taking from his pocket a few cents) I would not give these coppers for all your banks, your buildings and bank capital. I would not give a five-cent piece for the American Exchange bank with $5,000,000 of capital. Gentlemen, you must take the loan or barbarism!"

All heads were raised in sympathetic admiration. All eyes sparkled with the ardor and glow of the suddenly inspired orator. The loan was unanimously voted, and the Government supplied with the means to begin the war for the Union. All honor, then, I say, to George S. Coe! If no monument in bronze or marble in any of our cities commemorates his patriotic services, let history at least keep the record and cherish the name of the man whose promptness and courage in the hour when 'men's hearts were failing them,' did so much to restore confidence and save the country."

The Lower California Placers.

From the San Diego Union, Aug. 14.]

Mr. G. Caravis showed us yesterday three beautiful specimens of placer gold, weighing an ounce or more each. Thirty ounces of this gold were brought up from the placers near the gulf side of the peninsula by a party of Mexican miners, who made the trip up overland in fourteen days. These miners say there are about 400 people, mostly Mexicans, at the mines. There is no water nearer than forty miles sufficient for mining purposes, and the gold is obtained by "dry-washing." The gold is very coarse. One nugget was lately obtained weighing over five pounds. The name of the camp is Camalia, about 45 miles from Gertrudes, and 500 miles south of San Diego. Quartz leads exist in the vicinity, but are not yet worked.

BOSTON MARKET.

Corner Fifth and Spring streets, Los Angeles.

THE UNDERSIGNED would respectfully announce to the public that he has just opened a commodious and elegantly fitted-up market at the above named location. I have built a large

ICE CHEST,

And hereafter all meats sold by me will be fresh, tender and juicy. Most people are aware of the fact that, when meat can be kept several days, unexposed to the air, in a cool place, it acquires a better flavor, as all the juices are retained. All who appreciate a clean and attractive market and desire a choice piece of Beef, Mutton, Lamb, Veal or Pork will do well to call. Choice Corn Beef always on hand. Remember that this is the only market in the city where you can get meat fresh and sweet from the ice chest.

A good stock of poultry, butter and eggs on hand at reasonable prices. Also all kinds of fruits and vegetables.

WE BRING GLAD TIDINGS!

HEALTH! HEALTH! HEALTH! HEALTH! HEALTH!

HEALTH restored to life prolonged to suffering humanity, by the most wonderful curative agents ever discovered. I invite the sick, no matter what their diseases may be, to call and investigate for themselves before abandoning all hope, for it will cost you nothing. I give no encouragement unless there is a fair prospect of making a cure. I will endeavor to be candid in my opinion, and reasonable in my charges. I claim not to cure everybody, but to cure all that can be cured. I am formerly from New York city, and a graduate of one of the best medical colleges in the United States, and a most thorough Electrician, and have had many years' successful practice in the treatment of both acute and chronic diseases. To remove all doubts and convince my patients that I claim nothing but what I am, I refer to my diplomas and the numerous recommendations in my possession, which will always be ready for inspection at my office. I HAVE NO ONE CURE-ALL; nor do I make a hobby of any one mode of treatment. I use electricity or medicines or both, as cases may require. I find the cause of disease, remove it, and nature, assisted by medicinal remedies properly applied, will promote a cure without fail. TO THE LADIES. To the ladies I would say: You, whose sufferings have become intolerable, and who have suffered a thousand deaths from those diseases so common to your sex, give me a call, for I CAN CURE YOU WITHOUT FAIL, and make your lives once again worth living for. And all consultations will be strictly private and confidential. YOUNG MEN. To those young men who are suffering from year to year, and whose vital powers have become impaired, and nervous system unstrung and broken down, and are suffering all the horrors from the effects of youthful follies; COME AND SEE ME. I have a sure preventative of premature decay and early death. To those who from indiscretions have contracted private diseases and are desirous of being cured, come without fail, for I can guarantee you a speedy cure. I treat with success all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver, Head, Nerves, Kidneys, Bladder, Womb, Blood, Affections of the Urinary Organs, Gravel, Piles, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Eye and Ear, etc., etc. Consultation free at my office.

COULTER'S COLUMN.

A FEW SOLID FACTS

For Your Consideration!

FIRST—There is no hou California better prepared to offer genuine bargains throughout a general stock Dry Goods. We have a resident buy in New York. He is constantly sending the Choicest Goods bought at the Lowest Prices.

SECONDLY—We do not deal in Shoddy Goods. When you want a good article at a price as low as any store can or will sell it, call at 236 and 238 Main street, Baker Block, and try us.

B. F. COULTER.

COULTER has just received direct from New York city an extra fine lot of BLACK DRESS SILKS, which he will sell cheaper than the same grade can be bought in any other house. Bring your samples and test it.

My Extra Fine Black Dress Silks, of which I have sold so much, has never been equaled even by San Francisco houses. Call and see it and oblige

B. F. COULTER.

One thing certain! No lady can do herself justice or her husband's pocketbook justice if she fails to look at Coulter's GLOSSY BLACK CASHMERES. These are the glossiest and prettiest Cashmeres sold on the coast, and not only are the prettiest but they have again and again been pronounced the cheapest. It costs nothing to look at them. Please do so.

Whatever you want in the Dry Goods line, if you will call at Coulter's store you will find it at the right price. Don't be deceived. You can do better anywhere.

We manufacture especially for Miners extra large all-wool BLANKETS in Grey, Mottled, Brown, Blue and Vicuna. Our NAVY-BLUE OVERSHIRTS are very superior, none better, and the sizes are full and large. Call at 236 and 238 Main street, Baker Block.

B. F. COULTER.

THE COULTER SHIRT is giving perfect satisfaction, and is undoubtedly without a rival on the coast. Men are paying high prices for shirts made to order, that are no better in any respect than those we are selling at very low prices. The "Coulter Shirts" are manufactured expressly to my order. Call and see them.

B. F. COULTER.

B. F. COULTER.

Last, but not least. I am done selling goods on credit. Hereafter all goods must be paid for when delivered. I expect to sell goods at smaller profits than ever before, and I cannot afford to keep accounts.

Very Respectfully,

B. F. COULTER.

Mr. E. M. Baker, of Iowa, passed through town yesterday on his way to Santa Ana, where he proposes to take up his residence. It is rumored that he intends to purchase the Santa Ana Standard from the Stamps Brothers, those gentlemen desiring to retire to their extensive and profitable raisin vineyards at Orange.

Black grapes are retailing in the local markets at eight cents per pound, and peddlers easily retail them at that price. The demand for early fruit far exceeds the supply. The Mission grapes—by many supposed to be the best table grape—are just coming into the markets.

THE DUTCH.

"Several Germans" on English Ignorance and Operatic Music.

A subscriber signing himself "Several Germans," writes to the TIMES an indignant letter, in which he says that his attention has been called to an article in last Friday's issue of this paper, in which mention is made of a newly-organized German singing society in this city, and in which "old Dutch operas" were incidentally alluded to. He says: "The word 'Dutch' is used rather freely by the lower classes of the English-speaking people; very often out of ignorance, and very often in blackguardism. Since we cannot suppose that the writer of the above mentioned article is in any way ignorant, or that he intended to appear vulgar, we must suppose that he really meant what he said,—'Dutch operas'—but, though we are familiar with German, French and Italian music, we have never heard of 'Dutch operas' and choruses, and would ask what operas the writer referred to."

The writer of the article above mentioned will not acknowledge that the use of the word "Dutch" by the lower classes of the English speaking people, or by the higher classes, either, is any evidence of ignorance or blackguardism. On the contrary, he believes that if "Several Germans" would escape the charge of ignorance, he will do well to review his historical studies. No sensible person need be ashamed to use the word "Dutch," and if the writer of the article complained of were not an American he would not have the least objection to being a Dutchman. He remembers that the present great Empire of Germany would never have existed had it not been for the patriotism and courage of the Dutch, and he would consider it a high honor to belong to a country which produced such statesmen as John de Witt and his colleagues of the States-General; a country to which England, the greatest of the English-speaking nations of the seventeenth century, was proud to send her Sir William Temple for the purpose of negotiating the Triple Alliance. "Several Germans" should read up the history of his country, and especially of the United Provinces. It he will do so, his indignation, because a writer chooses to use the word "Dutch" in a very common acceptation—that is, as indicating the whole of Germany,—will vanish before the light of reason and a better knowledge of the land of his forefathers.

The Man That Stole Chauvin's Horse.

Police Officer McMahon arrested a man yesterday afternoon in Williams' saloon, on Requena street, between Los Angeles and Wilmington, who answered to the description of the man who stole Mr. Chauvin's horse last Saturday evening. The Chief of Police had received a description of the thief from a Chinaman near Santa Monica, with which the man arrested by officer McMahon corresponded in every particular. When taken before Justice Morgan, the prisoner gave the name of Jack Harris and requested immediate examination. He was then examined and held to answer with bail fixed at $500. Failing to give bail, he was remanded to prison. In appearance he is a rough looking customer.

HISTORY OF A CRIME.

A Tale of Fraud With a Startling Sequel.

Arrest of Robert Proby at La Puente Station—A Short Stop to a Career of Dishonesty.

The TIMES, in Aug. 1882, published an account of the mysterious drowning of a man named Robert Proby in the bay of Santa Monica, and in April of this year gave another account of the occurrence, which explained to some extent the mystery which shrouded it, and threw great doubts on the veracity of the two men who were supposed to have witnessed it. As occurrences the most sensational are apt to grow dim in the public memory, it will be advisable to briefly recapitulate the salient points of the matter before proceeding to give the sequel which transpired yesterday, and which shows the inevitable justice that everywhere follows the chief actor in the history of a crime. When the campers at Santa Monica heard one evening in August, 1882, that a man had been drowned while in bathing, there was naturally great excitement.

The investigation which ensued disclosed the information that the name of the man was Robert Proby, who had a short time before arrived in this county from Texas. His companions on the beach were B. Baden and Isaiah Zeron, the latter it was said, accompanying him into the water, and it was their evidence which produced the impression in the public mind that Proby had really been drowned.

A QUESTION OF VERACITY.

The evidence of these two men, Baden and Zeron, was not wholly satisfactory to everybody concerned, particularly the order of Odd Fellows, of which Proby was a member, and the societies of the Legion of Honor and Knights of Honor, in the former of which his life was insured for $5000, and in the latter for $2000. The Odd Fellows aided Mrs. Proby, who, with her children, was left destitute and alone, but at the same time inquiries were set on foot touching the antecedents and general character of Proby himself. Baden and Zeron were evidently offended at these proceedings, and, believing that their veracity was at stake, each made affidavit to the effect that Proby's moral character was irreproachable, and that he came to his death by imbibing too much salt water. They were particularly positive as to the latter statement, testifying that on August 30th, 1882, between 8 and 9 o'clock, Proby and Zeron went in bathing in the surf; that he attempted to swim to the buoy and back; that cries for help were heard, and that Proby was not seen afterwards. This statement was elaborated by suggestive allusions to rough seas, entangling kelp, ravenous sharks and horrible devil fish. In fact, the story was too fishy; there was too much brine about it to be swallowed by either the friends of Mrs. Proby, the Odd Fellows, or the benevolent societies in which Proby's life was insured. The insurance money was not paid over, and the case remained in statu quo. Opinion was divided, but there was a sincere desire to sympathize with Proby's unfortunate wife, the Ladies' Benevolent Society giving her substantial testimony of their belief in her innocence of fraud. As for Proby, the theory of those interested in the order of the Legion of Honor was that he procured two witnesses to swear to his death, while he feigned drowning and then swam ashore and escaped in the darkness, and that this was done that the insurance might be realized. That this theory was correct the sequel has shown.

MURDER WILL OUT.

The work of investigation went on. The Legion of Honor traced the matter up, step by step, until there was no longer any doubt of the villainy of Proby. The truth gradually came out that Proby had bribed Baden and Zeron to testify falsely to his death, and that even his wife had been a party to the conspiracy to obtain the insurance money wrongfully. If there had been any doubt on that point, or as to the fact of Proby's guilt, the following letter, which recently came into the hands of the Deputy Sheriff, would have been sufficient to set it at rest:

WILLS POINT, TEX., Aug. 4, 1883.

DEAR PROBY:—Since my letter of yesterday I have heard quite a number of persons express their opinion of your letter and the course you seem to be pursuing. A few believe you crazy; the great majority, however, think your action only done to shield your wife and the man Baden, and you will never be able to convince them otherwise.

After re-reading and studying your letter I must tell you, Proby, that I am strongly inclined to the same opinion. Your having made the statement to two, if not three, parties in Texas that Baden was to be one of your witnesses, taken together with Baden's subsequent acts, confirms me in this belief. Being satisfied of this fact, I am equally satisfied that he did it expecting a handsome reward, and since your policies were all made payable to your wife, she alone was the party to pay him the money. Aside from your previous statements, don't I know and don't you know that Baden would never have hung around Mrs. Proby for five or six months, and at the first intimation of being suspected, to skip out in double quick like a coward and a thief, and never afterwards let Mrs. Proby or any of her friends know aught of his whereabouts. Don't I know that if he had been no party to this fraud that common humanity would have prompted him to come up like a man and aid her in recovering this insurance money which he thought justly due her? knowing too, as he did that her ability to recover it depended almost entirely upon himself as a witness to your death.

This thing won't hold water at all, Proby, and I am sorry, indeed, you ever wrote it to me. And then why did you write me that you had written your wife to go ahead and still try to collect the money? Your conviction of wrong seems only to have come after every effort of her's to collect the money had failed. You certainly knew as well at the time you wrote that letter as you do now, that you had suspected her wrongfully, if such was the case. I am again forced back, Proby, to my conviction that she and yourself have understood each other all the way through. Under other circumstances, I might ask pardon for writing so plain. But, Proby, I am the most wronged man in this whole affair. I respected and loved you as the best friend I ever had. When it was said here that you was never married to Mrs. Proby, but was living, or rather had been living with her "as with a mistress." I felt the insult as keenly as if it had been said of myself, and but for the interposition and urgent advice of friends I would have been involved in a most serious difficulty. I took the whole load upon my shoulders, not only to defend your memory, but to assist your wife and helpless little babes in securing the money which I then felt was justly due them. Similarly situated—under like circumstances—and with the same surroundings—I would do as much again, not only once, but a thousand times if necessary. I thank God that I have done no act in this whole matter that I would now recall—not even after the foul venom of slander has been thrown upon me. Towards yourself and family I only tried to do what I conscientiously believed to be my duty, and I shall again do a duty I owe to myself and family whenever I find the man who sought to cast this slur upon me.

As I wrote you yesterday, if you can obtain the forgiveness of your Maker, and can reconcile your conscience, I can forgive you the wrong you have done me. And I would here reiterate my advice of yesterday—Let suiciding alone; go at once to Wild Horse and take your wife and children; go to some of the Western States or Territories and be a man again. You have no more right to rob them of your support and protection now than you have to take their lives. You are responsible for your children's existence as well as for their present condition, and it would be the meanest and most cowardly act you ever done to destroy yourself and leave these helpless little things to battle with life alone.

And now, Proby, it is too bad that a man of your kind, noble and generous heart, should ever have so wronged your Brother Odd Fellows, not only here but in California. Whilst believing you dead, this lodge contributed $35 to the support of your wife and children, and in addition to this there is still some $65 due Los Angeles Lodge for money they advanced to Mrs. Proby to return to Texas. This amount, on account of a misunderstanding between this and that lodge, has not been paid back to them. If you are really sorry and repentant, Proby, for your conduct, you will reimburse these lodges the amounts they have contributed. The money given to Mrs. P. at the time she left here was made up by private contributions from our members, and so far as I know she is welcome to it. I do not know of anything you can do that would soften the feeling against you more than to pay this money back to the lodges. In the name of God, Proby, how could an Odd Fellow like you so grossly violate his obligation?

Again I ask you to give me the whole truth of this matter, and nothing else but the truth. I know that you can appreciate the justice of this request, and if you are at all sincere in your manifestation of a disposition to confess your wrong, and make amends for the past, I am sure you will tell me the truth. Writing as you do, it would certainly seem that you are not yet lost to a sense of honesty and duty, and if applied, I am sure you have that within you to make a man of yourself. In the exercise of that charity which covers a multitude of sins, I entertain the hope, Proby, that a remembrance of those obligations which you and I have both taken, will so govern your actions in the future as that you may never be tempted to perpetrate another wrong. I remain sorrowfully yours, WM. W. GIBSON.

P. S.—I shall also expect your promised letter to the lodge.

THE ARREST.

The above letter also indicates that the woman with whom he lived here is not his legal wife, and that he has another wife living. Acting on this and other information, District Deputy C. C. Cheesebrough yesterday swore out a warrant for Proby's arrest and placed it in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Geo. E. Gard. That official was on track of Proby, and yesterday afternoon succeeded in making his arrest. He found him at work as a carpenter on a building at La Puente Station, about twenty miles from this city. The Deputy Sheriff asked the man his name.

"My name is Osborn," Proby replied. "You look very much like a man I once knew by the name of Proby," answered Gard.

"That is my name, sir," Proby said, and quietly submitted to arrest.

On the way to the county jail Proby gave a detailed account of his crime, confessing the guilt of himself, and the implication of Baden and Zeron. He said that he thought the insurance money would be good for his wife and children, and it was with that idea that he conceived and executed the crime. After crying out for help in the water he swam about a mile up the beach and landed safely. Since that time he had wandered through Oregon, Washington Territory, Montana and California. He had not been able to keep his secret, having written letters to friends in Texas, and failure to secure the insurance money had made him reckless of consequences, therefore he had returned to this county.

Deputy Sheriff Gard delivered his prisoner to the Sheriff here and he was lodged in jail. He has changed in appearance, wearing a full beard and mustache instead of the side whiskers worn prior to his alleged drowning. Warrants are out for the arrest of Baden and Zeron, but it is known that they are both out of the State. Mrs. Proby is in Texas. The guilty man takes the matter coolly, and acts as if he was expecting the retribution which has overtaken him.

ANAHEIM.

The Week's News Budget From That Point.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

ANAHEIM, August 14, 1883.

An accident, which came very near being a fatal one, happened at Anaheim Landing Sunday afternoon. Eleven persons, all but two of Anaheim, had gone out some distance from shore in Wilson's sail boat to fish. They had along with them as helmsman, Ben Wilson, who, although a sailor, is not a swimmer. After catching about 500 pounds of fish the party started the boat back. When about a mile from shore a large breaker struck the boat and nearly filled it with water; some of the occupants, who had on their Sunday best, jumped up on the rail to keep out of the water, when the boat upset, throwing all the men out. Two fell under the sail, but succeeded in extricating themselves. The mast and sail prevented the boat from turning completely over, and the men, nearly all of whom could not swim, clung to it and waited for help. At the landing there was great excitement and everyone was running to and fro. Several ladies, among them wives of those on the boat, fainted, and they required the full attention of the cool-headed ones. As soon as ropes could be procured, Messrs. Schmidt, Browning, Higgins and others swam out towards the swamped boat, and Messrs. Hull and Charlie Wilson went to the rescue with the one remaining small boat, and brought in the most exhausted, one and two at a time. The breakers kept dashing over the men clinging to the capsized boat, and it was a trying time to them, waiting their turn to be taken by the rescuers. It is safe to say that had the small boat been manned by any others than the rescuers, Ben Wilson it would surely have been swamped too, as it was not made to breast the breakers. Mr. Schmidt, in trying to swim out with a line, became exhausted and would certainly have been drowned had it not been for Mr. Northam, who swam out to his rescue. The Count had been seized with cramps and was perfectly helpless, and it required the help of Landell and Upson, who were on hand, to bring him to shore. There he was attended to by Mrs. Dr. Higgins, who fortunately happened to be on the scene, and was soon revived. At the end of an hour and a half the last man had been safely brought ashore from the wrecked boat. It was the first trip on the water for some of the men, and they swear it shall be the last. Had it not been for the heroic efforts of Messrs. Wilson, Hull, Northam, Browning and a few others who fortunately remained cool, there would be many a sad home here to-day.

The exports from the Anaheim depot for the week ending the 14th, were as follows: 25 cases eggs, 1500 pounds; 41 bales wool, 16,363 pounds; 81 sacks potatoes, 21,740 pounds; 17 casks wine, 23,100 pounds; 78 head sheep, 20,000 pounds; miscellaneous, 25,510 pounds; total, 107,613 pounds.

A good gunsmith is wanted here. The game season approaches and there will be plenty of work for a man of that trade.

Albrecht Bros. are building an addition to their house at the depot, to be used as a carpenter shop.

Mr. T. S. Grinshaw has the lumber on the ground for a new cottage on his lot on Broadway. It will be of the Queen Anne style and will be an ornament to that part of town.

The tax levy for this year has been fixed by the Board of Town Trustees at 50 cents on the $100—the lowest rate for several years past. The assessment roll foots up $350,375.

George Opp has secured the contract for building the new German Evangelical Church to be erected here, and he will commence work immediately.

There was a social dance at Anaheim Landing last night.

E. J. P.

Some fruit-growers who have lime orchards in sheltered localities and escaped the heavy frosts of last winter did exceedingly well with their crop this year. There is a good demand for this fruit both at home and abroad, but its culture, owing to frosts, is very perilous.
